Greeting to Delegate.

"Your Excellency—Our Right Rever-end Bishop, the Reverend Fathers of the church and the Catholic people in general greet you. They rejoice in this your first visit to Salt Lake City and bid you a thousand welcomes. As papal delegates, the representative in the United States of the great and illustrious Pontiff, Pope Leo XIII, vicar of Christ whom thinkers love as the sweet soul and tender heart, the master mind the finished scholar and the wise and far-seeing statesman, and who has enfleared himself to the American people specially in his writings and his teachngs, we welcome you.

Apart from your exalted office, we recognize in you the loyal and devoted priest of the august and apostolic church, the unyielding friend of religious education, the tried and true servant of God and humanity, and therefore the hierarchy and Catholic people of Utah feel cheered and encouraged at your coming.

Loyal to Church.

"While we are few in numbers and scattered, we are nevertheless as loyal to the principles of the mother church as any of her children, loyal to the holy father, loyal to your excellency, loyal to the bishop and the constituted au-thorities of our church, at the same time living at peace with our neighbors and fellow citizens not of our religious belief, but who, however, share the same kindly and Christianlike feeling

Thompsons, Utah, May 29.—Informa-shipment to the sound.

Nineteen of the remaining twentytion was received at this place late this afternoon that three men heavily armed crossed the Rio Grande Western railway one mile east of Cisco, going Governor Wells, Mayor Thompson, Thomas Kearns, Joseph Geoghegan and John C. Lynch. The party drove rapidly to the residence of Bishop Scanlan, from there to the old St. Ann's orphan-from there to the old St. Ann's orphan-from the children were all drawn of God and home, he said, was the printing of the children were all drawn. Everything indicates that they are the outlaws wanted, as all sheep herders and others that go near Cisco stop was unusually large.

there for water and supplies and it was expected that these men would, but they gave the town a wide berth.

When the outlaws passed Turner's ranch they had six horses, having turned the others. ed the others loose, presumably to make as few tracks as possible. When going through Cisco they had only

As soon as the information was received here a telephone message was sent to Moab, a posse of three men under J. M. Cunningham was soon formed and they are now on the trail, hop-ing to head them off or follow if they

As the desperadoes gove out the information at Turner's ranch that they were going north, it is naturally supposed that they intended to double back on their tracks in order to throw the posses off the track.

the posses off the track.

The outlaws are supposed to be from Arizona, and as the trail taken by these men leads back to that country, it furthers the belief that these parties are the outlaws wanted. If they are not caught before they get seventy or eighty miles south it will be almost impossible to get them, as the mountains in that section are very rough and a few men with a little food can stand few men with a little food can stand off a large number for a long time. Some men also left here for Cisco in order to take up the trail there and overtake them if possible.

Horse Turned Loose.

The chase after the outlaws that murdered Sheriff Tyler and Sam Jen-kins promises to be the most exciting that has occurred in the state for many years. A small bay mare answering the description of one of the horses with the three men at Turner's ranch few hours after the murder, found tonight by the operator of the R. G. W. railway at Westwater, about forty miles east of here, or about fifteen miles east of where the three men crossed the R. G. W. railway late yesterday afternoon. The mare was almost completely exhausted, showing that she had been ridden hard and then turned loose and was hunting water. There remains no doubt but the men that murdered Tyler and Jenkins are Arizona outlaws. A letter was received at Moab today from a sheriff in Arizona, giving a full description of the five outlaws wanted in that state for the murder of two men, members of posses that were after them. There is a reward of $5,000 now out in that territory for the outlaws. These outlaws divided before they arrived at Moab, three of them coming through Moab last Wednesday.

The descriptions given by the sheriff tally exactly with the three that went through the town of Moab and they rode the same horses. The brands on them compare exactly. A man from Moab rode with the three outlaws from Moab to where the road crosses Grand river. He suspected there was something wrong and went with them for the purpose of examing the horses. The marks on them are identical. If the Arizona sheriff had notified officers at before they had added more murders to their list and saved the lives of the murdered men.

More posses are being formed every hour and all avenues of escape are being guarded.

Two More in San Juan.

Later-One of the party or five from Arizona for whom the reward of $5,000 is offered in that state was seen near Lisbon springs, San Juan county, this became a great favorite with the Pope morning by Oscar Elmer, who just arrived at this place. He was coming up to Nipples Cross road at that place. He was very heavily armed and a very rough loking ocharacter. He claimed he was going to his partner up in the questions coming up in the Philippines and Cuba, Dr. Rooker said: "The two men that separated from the policy of the vatican is to let every man other three that killed Sheriff Tyler attend to his own business.
